In the year 1975: Gerald Ford is President; Krushchev Remembers; Fellini Remembers; Frank Robinson becomes manager of the Cleveland Indians; first class is 10c and rising; Ali beats Foreman in Zaire; and groceries will now be coded. The New Yorker and Paul Newman are 50; Brigitte and Sophia are 40; and Jack La Lanne is 60. Burton gets Elizabeth II; Calley is paroled; The Kent State Guardsmen are acquitted; and calves are slaughtered in Minnesota to protest prices. Grade school now offers philosophy classes; another Miss Universe resigns her crown; and while pornography comes to Portugal, an American woman is made a saint. Rabin, Caramanlis, Miki, Wilson, and Schmidt are in; Meir, Ioannides, Tanaka, Heath, and Brandt are out. Episcopal women are priests; Greece will not have a king; Ella Grasso wins Connecticut. Rhoda takes the subway to her wedding. Stonehouse disappears and then surfaces; another "last Japanese soldier of WWII" is found; and Charlie Chaplan is knighted. Bald is beautiful. The Marharannee sells her jewels; Prince Charles admires George III; a truce fails in Northern Ireland; Jane Alpert surrenders; Mr. Rooney Goes to Washington; Valery Giscard d'Estaing has dinner with the French people; and William E. Miller does American Express ads. There are doubts that the most famous portrait of George Washington is really by Gilbert Stuart and unemployment is up. Margaret Thatcher is Conservative Party Chief; Ford swims; The Pill is now a song. Shirley Temple Black is Ambassador to Ghana; D.W. Griffith is on stamp; and Bramer the cow out-forecasts

the weather computer. Vietnam falls. Thailand asks the U.S. to leave. The American Consul in Argentina is kidnapped and slain. Princess Christina of The Netherlands marries an American; a book on "cellulite" reaches the best seller lists; CBS pays Haldeman for an interview. Malpractice Insurance soars; No Fault Car Insurance is mandatory in Georgia; and "Who is Deep Throat?" McGovern goes to Cuba; Jack Nicklaus wins his fifth Masters; Ann Landers is divorced; and Venice, after all, may be saved. Rubber dams seem to be the answer.

1976 will be without: Anne Sexton, Spyridon Marinatos; Larry and Moe of the Three Stooges; Jacqueline Susann; Schneor Zalman Shazar; Charley Weaver; Ed Sullivan; Fredric March; Vittorio De Sica; Chiang Kai-shek; H.L. Hunt; U Thant; Charles Lindberg; Amy Vanderbilt; Jack Benny; Bob Montana, the creator of "Archie"; George Baker, the creator of "Sad Sack"; Ida Fuller, the first recepient of Social Security; Umm Kulthum; Aristotle Onassis; Walter Lippman; Avery Brundage; and Walter Brennan.

Alpha Gamma Delta

This was Alpha Gamma Delta's fifth year at Armstrong. It was a year marked not only by continued monetary contributions to the sorority's national project, the rehabilitation of brain damaged children, but also by contributions to our local community and various campus activities. The now traditional Rummage sale, Georgia Day Booth, and car washes helped to raise the money for the national project while Gamma Rho Chapter sponsored the Epilepsy Bike-a-thon as its own special project of local benefit.

The chapter took honors for campus involvement by being the Intramural Champs, obtaining the Homecoming Spirit Award, and having two sisters win the titles of Greek Goddess and Miss Geechee.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha became a fraternity at Armstrong on November 15, 1970, formed from the then thirty-five year old Sigma Kappa Chi fraternity. Pike is proud of both its ritualistic traditions and its spirit of ambition and stresses initiative, development, and dedication.

Armstrong's Eta Mu Chapter of PiKA participated in or sponsored many activities this year. They held a Halloween Party for Bethesda boys, won the First Place trophy for their Homecoming float, boasted six student senators, one executive officer, and placed first in the overall intramural program, winning almost every major sport. Pike supported "Pack the Civic Center Night," the "Miller Pick-er-up Contest," and presented Ike Williams with the MVP Trophy for basketball.

PiKA counts a membership of 46 — the largest at Armstrong — with 20 "Little Sisters." Marie Connors represented Pike as their 1974-75 Sweetheart.

Sigma Kappa

Sigma Kappa marked its 100th anniversary on November 9, 1974. Armstrong's Epsilon Sigma Chapter not only recognized the event in the usual fashion of celebration, but also by participation in the national and international projects of Sigma Kappa. Thus financial contributions were made to the American Farm School in Greece to provide scholarships for women and to the Maine Sea coast Mission in honor of the sorority's founders.

On the community and more personal level, these sisters baked, sang, and entertained for elderly citizens and helped recruit volunteers in the Red Cross Blood Drive.

Pi Kappa Phi

In this, its fourth year at Armstrong, Pi Kappa Phi maintained its traditions of holding a Founder's Day Banquet in the fall, a Rose Ball in the spring, a party for children at Georgia Regional, and of supporting the Special Olympics. Members also continued to strive toward achievement academically and within the community.

The brothers of Gamma Sigma Chapter were proud to have placed second in the intramural program and to have been the Overall Champions during Greek Week.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu, the second oldest national fraternity, was founded in Macon, Georgia in 1852. It was the first women's national fraternity founded at Armstrong.

This year Kappa Omicron Chapter supported the sorority's national project, Project Hope, by sponsoring a softball game in which they played against the disc jockeys of radio station WSGA. Members also intertained local citizens by taking their Washboard Band to nearby nursing homes.

The Faithful Sisters' enthusiasm for campus activities was shown in their titles of both Greek Week and Intramural Champions, the receiving of scholastic and service awards and honors, the election of a sister as Homecoming Queen, and their formal Carnation Ball held in April.

Phi Kappa Theta

Phi Kappa Theta, founded nationally in 1899, chartered Armstrong's Alpha Chi Chapter in 1972. Theta members strive toward the high ideals of leadership and brotherhood. They stress individuality and a desire to help others.

Theta brothers and Little Sisters participate in campus activities such as the Chaos program, the Student Senate, and intramural sports. They "like to party" and in January celebrate their chapter's birthday with an annual Birthday Banquet.

Executive Committee

Glenn Arnsdorff ..... President
Beth Fogarty ..... Secretary
Nanci Futrell ..... Treasurer
Pat Talley ..... Vice-President

The salaried officers of the Student Government Association, who comprise the Executive Committee, are elected each year by the entire student body (or by whatever percentage happens to vote). The president appoints members to his cabinet in order, hopefully, to better measure the will of the general student body.

Honor Council

The Honor Council is another part of the Student Government, designed to provide a means by which students accused of violating the Honor Code may have a hearing.

The council met only once this year, during Spring Quarter, over a minor matter which was dismissed.

However, "Racky," "Doanesbury," and "Der Zeitzeist," all lighter-taned features, seem ta have been the paper's mast papular articles this year.

In this, its third year, the organization of physical education majors received its constitution and charter name. Alpha Sigma Chi meetings, held on the first Wednesday of each month, featured speakers and discussion on such topics as the effects on Armstrong's P.E. Department of the proposed merger with Savannah State and work within the school system after graduation. Although the group did not sponsor as many activities this year as last, those that were dealt with, such as finding jobs for members in summer camps, were successful.

With its gaal being ta "bring wamen inta full . . . partnerships with men," N.O.W. spansored several pragrams. Members distributed E.R.A. material and buttans and canducted a letter campaign urging state representatives ta ratify the Equal Rights Amendment. Caral Dixan pradaced a children's musical, "Free Ta Be, Yau and Me," which was casponsared by the Fine Arts Department. Meetings held with Athletic Directar Bill Alexander ta discuss the passibility af an intercallegiate athletic pragram far women braught little success, but similar discussions with Psychalagy Department afficials laaked mare hapeful.

United Christians on Campus

UCC was one of the more active organizations on campus this year, although student response did not always live up to expectations. Seminars on such topics as "A Person's Worth," "The Church in Society," and "Death and Dying" and a concert by "Dust and Ashes" were sponsored by UCC. Spring Quarter they held a special supper to celebrate Passover and a retreat on "Human Sexuality." Throughout the year "Yuk" remained an open meeting group, probably best known for their impromptu concerts in the Old Student Center and in the campus square.

Cheerleaders

Armstrong's cheerleaders are a group of men and women students that successfully encourages enthusiasm at athletic events. Most noted prehaps this year were their gymnastic endeavors at basketball games.

The cheerleaders also directed their energies toward raising money for the March of Dimes by sponsoring an Ugly Man Contest. Roger Webber was the lucky winner.

Armstrong's organization of the American Chemical Society was one of the most distinguished groups of the college this year. The ACS Lecture Series Featured medical personnel, criminologists, educators, and professionals from a variety of science fields besides those of pure and applied chemistry. The Used Text Store was expanded in both services offered and quarterly duration and a voluntary tutorial program to help freshman chemistry students was implemented this year. In recognition of these and other programs, Armstrong's chapter of the ACS was selected as one of the 40 Outstanding Chapters in a nationwide competition and awarded a prestigious Certificate of Merit.
